HELP! In Case of Accidents.

Drowning. 1. Loosen clothing, if any. 2. Empty lungs of water by laying body on its stomach and lifting it by the middle so that the head hangs down. Jerk the body a few times. 3. Pull tongue forward, using handkerchief, or pin with string, if necessary. 4. Imitate motion of respiration by alternately compressing and expanding the lower ribs, about twenty times a minute. Alternately raising and lowering the arms, from the sides up above the head will stimulate the action of the lungs. Let it be done gently but persistently. 5. Apply warmth and friction to extremities. 6. By holding tongue forward, closing the nostrils and pressing the "Adam's apple" back, (so as to close entrance to stomach) direct inflation may be tried. Take a deep breath and breathe it forcibly into the mouth of patient, compress the chest to expel the air, and repeat the operation. 7. DON'T GIVE UP! People have been saved after HOURS of patient, vigorous effort. 8. When breathing begins, get patient into a warm bed, give WARM drinks, or spirits in teaspoonfuls, fresh air and quiet.

Burns and Scalds. Cover with cooking soda and lay wet cloths over it. Whites of eggs and olive oil. Olive or linseed oil, plain or mixed with chalk or whiting.

Lightning. Dash cold water over a person struck.

Sunstroke. Loosen clothing. Get patient into shade and apply ice-cold water to head.

Mad Dog or Snake Bite. Tie cord tight above wound. Suck the wound and cauterize with caustic or white-hot iron at once, or cut out adjoining parts with a sharp knife.

Venomous Insects' Stings, etc. Apply weak ammonia, oil, salt water or iodine.

Fainting. Place flat on back; allow fresh air and sprinkle with water.

Electricity. Release from current, not touching body or wire with hands, metal or a wet stick. Handle body by its clothing, with rubber gloves and shoes if possible, if not, cover hands with dry woolen cloth, and stand on dry boards. Then induce artificial respiration as in a case of drowning. Rub limbs and massage body.

Tests of Death. Hold mirror to mouth. If living, moisture will gather. Push pin into flesh. If dead, the hole will remain, if alive, it will close up.

Cinders in the Eye. Roll soft paper up like a lamplighter and wet the tip to remove, or use a medicine dropper to draw it out. Rub the other eye.

Fire in one's Clothing. Don't run — especially not down stairs or out of doors. Roll on carpet, or wrap in woolen rug or blanket. Keep the head down so as not to inhale flame.

Fire in a Building. Crawl on the floor. The clearest air is the lowest in the room. Cover head with a woolen wrap, wet if possible. Cut holes for the eyes. Don't get excited.

Fire in Kerosene. Don't use water, it will spread the flames. Dirt, sand or flour is the best extinguisher; or smother with woolen rug, table-cloth or carpet.

Suffocation from Inhaling Burning-Gas. Get into the fresh air as soon as possible and lie down. Keep warm. Take Ammonia,—twenty drops to a tumbler of water, at frequent intervals.

ANTIDOTES FOR POISONS.

First. Send for a Physician.

Second. INDUCE VOMITING, by tickling throat with feather or finger, drinking hot water or strong Mustard and water. Swallow Sweet Oil or whites of Eggs.

Acids are antidotes for ALKALIES, and vice versa.

SPECIAL POISONS AND ANTIDOTES.

Acids. MURIATIC. OXALIC, ACETIC. SULPHURIC (Oil of Vitriol). NITRIC (Aqua Fortis).	Soapsuds, Magnesia, Lime-water.
Prussic Acid.	Ammonia in water. Dash water in face.
Carbolic Acid.	Flour and water, mucilaginous drinks.
Alkalies. POTASH. LYE. HARTSHORN. AMMONIA.	Vinegar or Lemon juice in water.
Arsenic. Rat Poison. Paris Green.	Milk, raw Eggs, Sweet Oil, Lime-water, Flour and water.
Bug Poison. Lead. Saltpetre. Corrosive Sublimate. Sugar of Lead. Blue Vitriol.	Whites of Eggs, or Milk in large doses.
Chloroform. Chloral. Ether.	Dash cold water on head and chest. Artificial respiration. Piece of ice in rectum.
Carbonate of Soda. Copperas. Cobalt.	Soapsuds and mucilaginous drinks.
Iodine. Antimony. Tartar Emetic.	Starch and water. Astringent infusions. Strong tea.
Mercury AND ITS SALTS.	Whites of Eggs. Milk. Mucilages.
Nitrate of Silver. Lunar Caustic.	Salt and water.
Opium. Morphine. Laudanum. Paregoric. Soothing Powders or Syrups.	Strong coffee, hot bath. Keep awake and moving at any cost.
Strychnine. Tinct. of Nux Vomica.	Mustard and water. Sulphate of Zinc. Absolute quiet. Plug the ears.

BUSINESS LAW IN DAILY USE.

The following compilation of Business Law contains the essence of a large amount of legal verbiage:

A note by a minor is void.

It is a fraud to conceal a fraud.

A note made on Sunday is void.

Ignorance of the law excuses no one.

A contract made with a minor is void.

A contract made with a lunatic is void.

The acts of one partner bind all the rest.

Notes bear interest only when so stated.

An agreement without consideration is void.

A receipt for money is not always conclusive.

The law compels no one to do impossibilities.

Contracts made on Sunday cannot be enforced.

Signatures made with a lead pencil are good in law.

Principals are responsible for the acts of their agents.

No consideration is sufficient in law if it be illegal in its nature.

Checks or drafts must be presented for payment without unreasonable delay.

If the time of payment of a note is not inserted, it is held payable on demand.

A note obtained by fraud, or from a person in a state of intoxication, cannot be collected.

If the drawee of a check or draft has changed his residence, the holder must use due or reasonable diligence to find him.

A note indorsed in blank (the name of the indorser only written) is transferable by delivery, the same as if made payable to bearer.

Each individual in a partnership is responsible for the whole amount of the debts of the firm, except in cases of special partnership.

If a note is lost or stolen, it does not release the maker; he must pay it, if the consideration for which it was given and the amount can be proven.

Checks or drafts should be presented during business hours, but in this country, except in the case of banks, the time extends through the day and evening.

"Value received" is usually written in a note, and should be, but is not necessary. If not written it is presumed by the law, or may be supplied by proof.

If one who holds a check as payee or otherwise, transfers it to another, he has a right to insist that the check be presented that day, or, at farthest, on the day following.

The maker of an "accommodation" bill or note (one for which he has received no consideration, having lent his name or credit for the accommodation of the holder) is not bound to the person accommodated, but is bound to all other parties, precisely as if there was a good consideration.

VALUES OF FOREIGN COINS.

The following estimate, by the Director of the Mint, of the values of Foreign Coins, is proclaimed by the Secretary of the Treasury, in pursuance of the provisions of section 25 of the Act of August 27, 1894, to be the values of such coins in terms of the money of account of the United States, to be followed in estimating the value of all foreign merchandise exported to the United States on or after January 1, 1918, expressed in any of such metallic currencies:

DISPLAY EXAMPLES.

TO FIND THE LENGTH OF DAY OR NIGHT.

At any time of the year add 12 hours to the time of the sun's setting, and from the sum subtract the time of rising for the length of the day. Subtract the time of setting from 12 hours, and to the remainder add the time of rising next morning for the length of the night. These rules are equally true for apparent time.

STANDARD TIME.

In this Almanac the risings and settings of the Sun and Moon are given in local mean time, as heretofore. The Tides are given in Standard Time. Light face figures indicate A. M. time; heavy face P. M. time.

To change to Standard Time add or subtract the minutes as given below, according as they are marked plus or minus.

Standard Time Divisions as adopted by the Railroads.

Eastern Standard—75th Meridian. Canada, between Quebec and Detroit,—U. S. east of Buffalo, N. Y.; Pittsburg, Pa.; Wheeling and Huntington, W. Va.; Bristol, Tenn.; Charlotte, N. C., and Augusta, Ga.

Central Standard—90th Meridian. West from "Eastern" limits, as above, to Broadview, Canada; to the Missouri River in Dakota; North Platte and McCook, Nebraska; Wallace and Dodge City, Kansas; Toyah and Sanderson, Texas.

Mountain Standard—105th Meridian. West from "Central" limits to Heron, Montana; Ogden, Utah; Needles and Yuma, Arizona.

Pacific Standard—120th Meridian. West from "Mountain" limits to coast.

2 Ther Wednesday, Jan. 1, 1919 Wea Stormy

Dark cloudy & intensely chilly with incessant fine rain freezing to literally everything it struck, loading every branch & twig with hard, clear ice at least ¼ inch in thickness and coating city streets & sidewalks with an equally thick & constantly rutted frozen surface exceedingly difficult & dangerous to either walk or motor over.

Because of these depressing conditions most people remained in doors.

Not so C., however. She motored from Ware Hall to lunch with E. R. S. & me, arriving at noon & departing at 3.30. We played the Victrola for an hour or more while she was here.

Roland Thaxter came at 4.30 bringing some of his King apples which are unlike any we grow at Concord & altogether new to me. He remained for about an hour.

No bird of any kind seen or heard.

Usual morning reading by E. R. S. to me. We are still in "David Copperfield."

Cambridge.

Ther Thursday, Jan. 2, 1919 Wea Stormy

The cold rain of yesterday became a warmer one over night removing every vestige of snow & ice before daybreak. It continued throughout to-day which, because of dense, low-hanging clouds & mists, was most dreary & depressing.

Spent forenoon at Mus. Comp. Zool., motoring down and walking back. After seeing Henshaw in his room climbed the stairs to Bird Room where Bangs showed me many rare or ... beautiful skins from all parts of the world. He has had most of the Seaforth types made over into serviceable & by no means ill-looking skins & has put the general collection into fine order.

On getting back to our house found Mr. Thurston again for luncheon & Doran Victrola music after it. Gilbert motored her to Boat Hall at 3.30

No birds noticed save 4 Gulls flying high toward the Frost Pond.

Cambridge.

Ther Friday, Jan. 3, 1919 Wea Stormy

Still another day of low-hanging, sullen clouds and almost incessant sleety rain which, freezing as it struck, rough-coated everything with opaque, pebbly ice quite unlike the smooth-skinned ice of day before yesterday & much less treacherous to walk on. Through it the grass shows bright green all over our lawns.

Garden birds: 2 Chickadees in lilacs, 3 Starlings eating Parkman apples, 3 Crows perched in Jungle.

Spent entire day in Museum, writing letters & charges for bills. E. R. S. has gone to her Bu this evening.

The Plymouth Rocks pullets brought from Concord laid their first eggs, 2 in number, to-day thereby delighting Percy.

Cambridge

Ther 26° Saturday, Jan. 4, 1919 Wea Fine

Clear, calm frosty but not chilly. The rain of yesterday turned overnight to snow which now covers everything with a robe of spotless white to no more than the depth of an inch or two, however. The newspapers predicted an intensely cold storm closely following the storm but it has not materialized as yet.

Garden birds: 2 Chickadees coming to suet by my study window; 7 Starlings eating Parkman apples; 3 Pine Grosbeaks perched in top of tall tree in jungle, calling; Hairy Woodpecker, heard.

Spent day in Museum engaged in routine work mostly writing letters & charges for bills. Even this has come to be almost beyond my power, because of incessant giddiness & eye strain. Harry Spelman brought down his small daughter to see the birds in mid P. M.

Cambridge

Ther 20° Sunday, Jan. 5, 1919 Wea Fine

Clear, calm & frosty, a brilliant mid-winter day. Excellent sleighing with a good many horses - dozens of sleds out to take advantage of it.

Garden birds. 8 Starlings in Parkman apple tree, 10 House Sparrows in Charles yard.

Spent entire day in house & Museum: working a little & napping a good deal.

Dr. Stevens called in late P. M. staying nearly an hour or more. He attributes my present weak & mortifyingly ineffective state of mind & body chiefly to nervous strain. This, he says, may best be counteracted by complete rest & careful attention to diet &c.

Miss Allyn dined with E. R. S. & me at 6.30 & departed at 3.30 P. M.

Theodore Roosevelt's death. 7th one

Earley morning cloudy. Remainder of day sunny and windless with falling temperature

Garden birds. 2 Chickadees at suet; 10 Starlings eating Parkman apples; 2 ♂♂ Downy Woodpeckers & a ♂ Hairy present together & sometimes all in Sauna tree in Jungle where the Hairy looked Three as big as the Downies. Once I saw Phim eating suet in Catalpa tree by Museum; 15 or 20 House Sp. in clothes yard; Blue Jay taking crusts of bread from it & caching Phim on fence posts & tree branches.

Spent most of day in museum engaged in Miscellaneous routine work; also in putting a string leading to Parkman apple tree to keep away the Starlings

Nuttall Club meeting, v large attendance with several old time members including Murdock, Frances, White & others. Glover Allen read short note on Arctic & boab. Gr. Horned Owls taken near Cambridge & showed one specimen ♂, boab. & E. S. Arctic foxes. Joe sent all not Hawks

News of Theodore Roosevelt's death reached Harvard Square

Cambridge

Ther 20° — Tuesday, Jan. 7, 1919 — Wea Dull

Partly sunny but mostly dark cloudy. Little or no wind. Air frosty & rather chilly.

Garden birds: All I noticed were 2 Chickadees coming to the suet that hangs close beside my Study window.

A short walk (as far as Nichols place) up Brattle Street soon after breakfast. Spent remainder of forenoon in Museum working letters. C. walked up from Ware Hall to lunch with E. R. S. & me. After that I played Victrola music to her for about an hour. She motored back in our Ford car at 4 P.M.

Usual evening reading.

Bosson called & solicited money for Boy Scouts fund. Gave him $5.

Ther Wednesday, Jan. 8, 1919 Wea Stormy.

Another dark-cloudy, windless, dreary day with fine rain falling almost incessantly yet not washing away much of the thin snow-covering.

Garden birds: a Northern Shrike in full song seen by Percy Harris at 8 a.m. Its presence doubtless accounted for the total absence of all other birds during the entire forenoon. In the afternoon two Chiffchaffs came in the street & half a dozen House Sparrows into the clothes yard

My out-door excursions extended no further than to the Museum where both forenoon & afternoon were spent as usual in working in Jews Letters

Ther Thursday, Jan. 9, 1919 Wea Dull.

Continued dark and gloomy, yet windless and not frosty weather, very depressing because so tryingly frequent & protracted for the past month or more. Streets & sidewalks again dangerously ice-coated. Lawns covered thinly with hard-frozen snow.

Garden birds. 1 Chiffchaff at suet; a House Sparrow in clothes yard; 3 Jays together in the linden.

Walked up Bradda Street to the Nichols place, after breakfast. Wrote letters & cheques for bills after returning to Museum. C. walked hither from Ware Hall to lunch with E. R. S. & me. Later we had Victrola music. Gilbert motored her back at 3.45 P.M. Usual evening reading.

Ther 10°, 18° — Friday, Jan. 10, 1919 — Wea -7°ine

Clear & cold with light northerly wind. Ground surfaces generally covered with a thin sheet of ice or snow. This at Concord makes good sledding but our main streets in Cambridge are largely bare.

Garden birds. A Chickadee, coming to the suet that hangs by my study window, was literally the only bird seen or heard by me to-day.

Not caring to face the cold northerly wind I kept in doors all day & mostly in Museum where letter writing and a general inspection of the library with a view to weeding out superfluous books, occupied my time very fully if not also profitably. My powers of accomplishment in such occupations are still at low ebb, however.

E. K. S. read to me after supper, as usual.

Cambridge

Ther 15°, 25° — Saturday, Jan. 11, 1919 — Wea -7°air

Mostly sunny & disagreeably cold but without much wind.

A Chickadee ate from suet & one or two House Sparrows the only garden visiting birds.

Another profitless day passed in Museum striving in vain to accomplish some worthy task but producing nothing save a few letters.

Mr. Scudder's friend who is trying to raise a lot of money for Grinnell College, Iowa, came to see me by appointment at 5.30 P.M. He asked me to advise Mrs. Melvin to give to it which I positively refused to do. His coming somewhat shortened a more welcome call from Dr. Dale Davis who came about 4.40. Prentiss French called at 8.15 P.M. Staying until 10.30 & giving me a most interesting account of his 10 months experience in France.

Ther 0°, 18° Sunday, Jan. 12, 1919 Wea Fine

Garden birds: A chickadee at suet, a Hairy Woodpecker heard in Jungle

The humiliating drowsiness that has so afflicted me for several weeks past became so overpowering to-day that I accomplished nothing in the way of writing save a three page letter to Dan'l; I did manage to keep awake at dinner time & for an hour or more afterwards, when we had as guests Charlie & Mrs. Lamb. Sarah Ames came to see Lorry before they departed. We had the usual evening reading.

Garden birds. A Chickadee coming to suet, a Downy heard in Jungle, 2 Starlings seen in Parkman's apple tree.

Our Gray Squirrels have not as yet shown any signs of hibernating to which they are commonly given at just this season. We seem to have only two, both very large & tame. After eating all the haws on 3 trees they have since eaten many of the Parkman apples on which the Starlings have fed so greedily.

Day spent in Museum writing letters. Walked up Bratton Street to Elmwood just after lunch. At it we had Miss Balch. E. R. S. read one of closing chapters of David Copperfield this evening

Garden birds. A Chickadee,
Northern Shrike, 2 ~~Hous~~ Sparrow,
2 Crows, 2 Starling (in Parkman apple)

The Shrike was perched at noon high in the Catalpa tree in front of Mus. where I watched him ten or twelve minutes. All the while he sang almost ceaselessly, employing mostly unmusical notes, some very like the mew of a Cat bird. He seemed to be also watching keenly for prey yet apparently failed to notice a Chickadee in view over the Museum gate. The latter bird was obviously nervous & excited. It kept uttering its call-notes & flitted restlessly to Garden birds. 2 Chickadees, a Northern Shrike, a Starling, 2 Hairy

Woodpeckers (♂ & ♀)

The Shrike, a small, dull-colored one, apparently ♀, appeared about 3 P.M. in Catalpa by Museum. Evidently hungry & in eager quest of prey it first flew at the ♀ Hairy who, however, faced it with leveled bill & half-spread wings.
Next it undertook to capture a Chickadee but failed to do so although following it about for many minutes through like this Cat-like dance that neither bird could do more than hop or flit a yard or less from twig to twig. Sometimes the Shrike got within 3 ft. of the Chickadee but never nearer. The Chickadee kept up a constant succession of chickadee-dee calls but otherwise seemed merely excited & prudently alert rather than fearful. After giving up pursuit & the Shrike dashed off at meteor speed to a Starling feeding in Parkman apple tree.

Spent most of day in Museum

Garden birds. A Chickadee only in the suet, a Starling (5) eating a few remaining Fameuse apples.

Spent most of day in Museum writing letters & bird notes (about Strikes in Gardens of Late).
Walked up Brattle St. to Elmwood in early afternoon.
Mr. & Mrs. Edward Emerson lunched with E. K. S. & me at 1 P.M.. He showed great interest in our Riedesel window frame and the printed story relating to it, being, to my surprise, wholly unfamiliar with both. & equally so, of course, to the von Bernstoff developments of 1917 establishing his relation to it.

The weeding out of books & pamphlets to be sent to John Sherman of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., occupied much of my time to-day. Some of the things thus discarded are duplicates, others have ceased to possess interest or value in my esteem. Sherman will take them all & pay me something in cash. Sam Henshaw endorses him & made no objection to my proposed dealing with him when informed of it.

C. walked up to take lunch with E. K. S. & me. We had Brahms music after it. Gilbert motored her & Charlotte back at 4 P.M.

At 10 a.m. Gilbert motored me to Harvard Square whence I went by subway to our Boston Office, remaining there for about 2 hours. Saw Gallough, Darling, Stod Buttrick, Beamis & others in Establishment. Took in Blanche for Thanksgiving Returns. After leaving Office called at Safety Vault & thence walked to cor. Of a prolonged series of more or less Springlike days this has been perhaps the most Springlike with its bright sunshine & calm soft air. So at least it's said by those who have been out of doors which I have not, being indeed confined to my chamber by sudden illness (consisting mostly of acute nausea) and thereby deprived of the pleasure of seeing our five dinner guests three Abbys, Miss Allyn & Walter Deane. They seemed to be enjoying themselves well enough to judge by the sound of their voices & laughter coming to my ears from below stairs. After she had been gone an hour or so I mustered strength enough to get up & dress — an infinite relief it seems to be once more on one's feet & able to look out of window on what so resembles an early April Landscape that I cannot help expecting to see & hear Robins & I do hear a Chickadee, Horned Jays & Crows & a Downy.

Dr. Stevens called at 9 a.m. By his advice I remained in bed all day and was glad enough to do so, being very weak & miserable. I was down stairs this evening, however, in my usual place by the hall fire with Emmy Kellett & E.R.S. to talk with.

Miss Allyn was here at dinner but I did not see her or Harry Spalman who called later with kindly offers of sympathy & assistance.

Henry Hinshaw has sent me M.S. of an unfinished autobiography he has just written. I read it yesterday with deep interest but it is not so well done as I hoped it would be.

Clear with light southerly wind and cool. Rather thin cold, air.

At last my "ills & ails" appear to be abating. To-day there has been no nausea & better appetite with somewhat less giddiness. This encouraging change has perhaps been brought by the Dunfoss Farm sour skimmed milk which I began taking yesterday. Dr. Fahrig recommended it strongly last Spring but Dr. Stevens did not seem inclined to favour it then Spent most of day downstairs in Den. Was called on three first by Mrs. Abry; next by C., who spent half an hour with me; then by Phelan, who offered to sit up with me o'nights; finally by Dr. Stevens. Coming called left at 4 P.M. after breakfast & returned by 10 A.M. to his home

Dr. Edsall called in consultation by Dr. Stevens, came at 9 a.m. to make a physical examination. It was done most thoroughly & together with a searching questioning as to the past history of my illness and ails, it lasted about one hour. Dr. Stevens was sure there was that lung. He reports that no organic disease can be found & that Dr. Edsall fully agrees with him in thinking that the trouble is wholly due to anemic condition of the blood. They both advise careful nursing & avoidance of all over exertion or worry however slight. C. came up at noon & stayed about half an hour. I was most extraordinarily sleepy part of the time.

Sunny, calm, cool but not frosty; altogether a delightful day of late autumn rather than mid-winter type. The ground remains for the most part & not wholly unfrozen & every nook & corner from here to Concord is quite free from snow, or ice while the grass of our city lawns continues green.

This, the 41 anniversary of our wedding day, has passed very pleasantly for C. & me despite our various ills & ails. She came up about noon to lunch with us at 1.30 and stay on until 3.30. A bitter wintry day with an icy N.W. gale blowing ceaselessly. Much the same kind of a day as April 19, 1875. Water frozen in the poultry yards last night, tender vegetation looking wilted. Several fruit trees in full bloom. Plum, fruit buds showing white though not quite open.

Spent forenoon by the morning room fire writing letters. In P.M. went to & through Cedar Park with James who cut a lot of birch sprouts to send to Camb. dye for pea brush. Heard a Chickadee there & saw a Song Sparrow in front of house but not another bird of any kind came beneath my notice. They must all have sought the most sheltered places & remained there.

Hard freeze

Partly sunny, mostly thin cloudy
Strong, chill N. W. wind.
Surface of ground ▽ of shallow ponds hard frozen at sunrise & to vegetation. Many herbaceous plants ▽ unfolding leaves of trees ▽ shrubs wilted & blackened.

Even the hardy Lilacs suffered there. but apparently not the apple trees. Early peach blooms doubtless ruined.
Many tiny nests of Tent Caterpillars visible yesterday & to day.
Two Chickadees in Cedar Park, several Juncos in a thistle patch ▽ a few scattered Crows were all the birds noted by me - except a Silent & Bluebird in our home yard
& a Robin heard singing at dusk.
James saw a buck Deer & 2 does

Others think the apple crop ruined

With this delightfully sunny &

In Carlisle I heard 2 Vespers
Sparrows trueful song.
Dizziness, nausea ▽ nervous exhaustion combined to give me a rather mean

Ther Monday, April 28, 1919 Wea Fair

Early morn sunny: remainder of day cloudy with fresh, soft S.W. wind which brought light rain at evening.

A pleasing bird concert at daybreak & for several hours later. Robins, 2 Chippies, a Song Sparrow Purple Finch, Swamp Sparrows and Chickadee, a Peabody bird, 2 jays, a Cowbird, a Pheasant & several Crows all contributed to its more or less fresh.

Yesterday I saw a Tree Swallow take a large white feather into the box from of house; To-day she took several of them. This must mean that she has already built & is lining her nest.

To day has been my best day for months. In A.M. I strolled all over the place, in P.M. pruned 200 raspberries & weeded flower beds for 2 hours without much fatigue.

Partly cloudy; mostly sunny. Strong, cool N.W. wind, harsh to be out it albeit not really cold. Half a dozen dandelions & a few tulips in bloom front of house.

The chill northerly wind silenced most of the birds & also drove them to sheltered places so that few were to be seen or heard anywhere about the Farm. In the run near the red fence, a Brown Creeper was singing at short, regular intervals when I passed that way at 9 a.m. His sweet, clear voice alone broke the silence there. Somewhat lower down the run I flushed a handsome cock Pheasant in dense cover. In the lane 4 young Red Squirrels 1/2 grown were playing a merry game of romps in & about a hollow apple tree. Another older one in our wood shed was pilfering & eating sweet seed corn, making a large quantity of cedar litter. I took from good to shelf & pruned raspberries for one hour in P.M.

At 9 a.m. I noticed a handsome blue-backed Sharp-shinned Hawk perched within 2 yds. of the bird bath. Jarvis attempted to shoot him with my 22 cal. rifle but missed fire. He was back again at 9.20, having made a circle by land & then in the open above. Jarvis tried for him again but the rifle again misfired. Not a bird in sight or hearing when he was here, otherwise figured in thirty-two field minutes altogether, Watched in different parts of the afternoon.

Big bird wave arrives

Bright sunshine & strong southerly wind combined to produce an oppressively warm & somewhat sultry day, noteworthy for the great & sudden increase of north-bound or local birds. From sunrise to sunset they swarmed by scores or hundreds throughout our orchards, shade trees & bordering woodlands. Day-by-day reports thin equally abundant about Concord valley. Thus & from the noted lofty Hosmer Rarely have I known a more sudden & considerable increase. My observation of it was, however, limited to what could be seen & heard during half an hour, just after breakfast, along the Lane, in Cedar Park & close about the house. For it was one of my busy days, & most of the bird-life was heard from 7.00 a 12 but I saw hurrying by on the wing. The Island & Bare Hill.
